Carl Nielsen's Concerto for Clarinet and Orchestra op. 57 was composed during the months from April to August 1928. In the early spring he had already composed the first two of the Three Piano Pieces op. 59: the Allegro fluente dated 15th January 1928 and the Molto adagio, dated 1st March 1928;¹ then, at the request of Emil Telmányi, the Preludio e presto op. 52 for solo violin.²

The earliest work with the clarinet at the centre is one of the composer's pieces from his time at the Royal Danish Academy of Music in Copenhagen, entitled Fantasy Piece for clarinet and piano.³ The distinctiveness of the instrument came to expression in the quintet Serenata in vano for clarinet, bassoon, French horn, cello and double bass, composed in 1914, where each of the wind instruments speaks its own language in a musically humorous process with the two strings as accompaniment; and in 1922, in his last opus for chamber ensemble, the Wind Quintet op. 43, he tried to express the character of the different instruments – a composition technique he extended in Symphony No. 6.

In the concerto for clarinet and orchestra Carl Nielsen presented the essence and expressive potential of the clarinet with a small orchestra and a snare drum playing with and against each other. In an interview in connection with a performance in Stockholm he described the clarinet as follows:

Carl Nielsens Koncert for Klarinet og Orkester op. 57 er komponeret i løbet af månederne april til august 1928. I det tidlige forår havde han forinden komponeret de to første stykker af Tre Klaverstykker op. 59: Allegro fluente dateret 15. januar 1928 og Molto adagio, dateret 1. marts 1928,¹ og på opfordring af Emil Telmányi Preludio e presto op. 52 for violin solo.²

Det tidligste værk med klarinetten i centrum er et af komponistens arbejder fra konservatorietiden med titlen Fantasiyukke for klarinet og klaver.³ Instrumentets særpræg kom til udtryk i kvintetten Serenata in vano for klarinet, fagot, horn, cello og kontrabas, komponeret 1914, hvor blæseinstrumenterne taler med hver sit sprog i et musikalsk humoristisk forløb med de to strygere som akkompagnement, og i 1922 søgte han i sit sidste opus for kammerensemble, Blæserkvintet op. 43, at udtrykke de forskellige instrumenters karakter – en kompositionsteknik, som Carl Nielsen videreførte i Symfoni nr. 6.

I koncerteren for klarinet og orkester fremstillede Carl Nielsen klarinettenes væsen og udtryksmuligheder med et lille orkester og en lille tromme som mod- og medspillere. I et interview i forbindelse med en opførelse i Stockholm beskrev han klarinetten således:

3 According to Torben Meyer & Frede Schandorf Petersen, Carl Nielsen. Kunstneren og Mennesket, Copenhagen 1948, vol. 2, p. 346, composed between 1883 and 1887.

"The clarinet is a peculiarly interesting instrument, wider in compass than most. A clarinet can sound hysterical like – my apologies – a woman, paradisiac like a west wind over the meadows of the blessed."⁴

Besides the instrument itself, Carl Nielsen was inspired by the person for whom the work was intended: the unique and temperamental clarinettist Aage Oxenvad, a member of the Copenhagen Wind Quintet and a participant in the very first performance of the wind quintet. Carl Nielsen already had first-hand knowledge of Aage Oxenvad's musical skills from the Royal Orchestra,⁵ where Oxenvad had been engaged in 1909 (from 1919 on as solo clarinettist), and he had great respect for Aage Oxenvad's musical abilities; in a recommendation from 17th February 1921 he writes:

"Mr. Aage Oxenvad of the Royal Orchestra is such a well known and highly reputed musician that it seems quite strange for me to be asked for a statement about his abilities. However, it is a true pleasure for me to do this. –

Mr. Oxenvad's abilities and talent are highly exceptional in this country; not only his rare talent and skill as an instrumentalist, but his creative powers and theoretical knowledge are also uncommon. To this I can add that since he is responsive and understanding and his taste is flawless both in old and new art, it can hardly come as a surprise that I give him my very warmest recommendation".⁶

It is said that Carl Nielsen promised each of the members of the Copenhagen Wind Quintet a solo concerto – probably in connection with the performances of the wind quintet; but some years were to pass before anything happened.⁷ In 1925 his health began to fail, and he had to ease the pace, but in the spring of 1926 he was preparing for "a major piece for clarinet and smallish orchestra."⁸ However, on 22nd July 1926 he wrote to Carl Johan Michaelsen:⁹

"Klarinetten är ett sällsynt intressant instrument, omfångsrikt som få. En klarinett kan låta hysteriskt som – förlåt – en kvinna, paradiskt som en västanvind över de saligas ängder."⁴

Ud over af selve instrumentet blev Carl Nielsen inspireret af den person, som værket var tiltænkt: – den enestående og temperamentsfulde klarinettist Aage Oxenvad, medlem af Københavns Blæserkvintet og medvirkende ved uropførelsen af blæserkvintetten. Carl Nielsen havde førstehåndskendskab til Aage Oxenvads musikalske færdigheder allerede fra Det Kongelige Kapel,⁵ hvor Oxenvad var blevet ansat i 1909 (fra 1919 som soloklarinettist), og han nærede stor respekt for Aage Oxenvads musikalske evner; i en anbefaling fra 17. februar 1921 skriver han:

"Hr. kgl. Kapelmusiker Aage Oxenvad er en saa kendt og højt anset Musiker, at det forekommer mig helt underligt at jeg bliver anmodet om en Udtalelse om hans Evner. Imidlertid er det mig en sand Glæde at gøre dette. –

Hr Oxenvads Evner og Talent er her i Landet ganske ualmindelige. Ikke alene hans sjeldne Begavelse og Dyrkethed som Instrumentalist, men ogsaa hans skabende Kræfter og theoretiske Kundskaber er ualmindelige. Kommer hertil, at han er receptiv og forstaaende og hans Smag lutret saavel overfor gammel som ny Kunst, er det vel intet Under, at jeg giver ham min allervarmeste Anbefaling".⁶

Carl Nielsen skulle efter sigende have lovet medlemmerne af Københavns Blæserkvintet hver en solokoncert – sandsynligvis i forbindelse med opførelserne af Blæserkvintetten, men der skulle dog gå nogle år, før der skete noget.⁷ I 1925 begyndte hans helbred at svigte, og han måtte sætte tempoet ned, men i foråret 1926 forberedte han sig på "en større Ting for Klarinet og mindre Orkester."⁸ Imidlertid skrev Carl Nielsen 22. juli 1926 til Carl Johan Michaelsen:⁹

"I have not begun on the clarinet thing and now and then I have had an idea that would 'do' well for the flute. Should I rather write a flute affair first?"¹⁰

The clarinet concerto thus had to wait for the flute concerto that was first performed in Paris on 21st October 1926 with Holger Gilbert-Jespersen on flute and Emil Telmányi conducting; then another couple of years were to pass before Carl Nielsen went to work in earnest on the clarinet concerto. From 20th January until 11th February 1928 he and his wife Anne Marie Carl-Nielsen were on a skiing holiday in Norway. Before their departure he had given an interview to Dansk Musikertidende, in which one could read:

"Are you working on anything new? – Right now I am to travel to Norway. And up there I will keep an old promise to Axel Oxenvad and write a clarinet concerto."¹¹

How far Carl Nielsen got with the clarinet concerto in Norway and in Copenhagen in the time immediately afterwards and up to mid-April we do not know, but at Damgaard, where he had gone around 15th April, his ideas about the work were so well consolidated that on 20th April he could send a proposal for a possible performance of his clarinet concerto to Konsertföreningen in Stockholm in connection with the planning of an upcoming concert on 5th December.¹² Just about a week later he had to go to Copenhagen to adjudicate in a competition held by the Columbia Graphophone Company Ltd. in New York on the occasion of the centenary of Franz Schubert's death on 19th November 1828.¹³ That he was a little irritated by the interruption is evident from a letter of 30th April to his wife:¹⁴ "Dear little Marie! – – – Tomorrow I have to go to Copenhagen, which I am not too pleased about, as I have got a grip on my new clarinet affair. – – – ".¹⁵ After adjudicating in the competition he went back to Damgaard, and on 28th May he writes to Emil Telmányi:

"Jeg har ikke begyndt paa Klarinet-Sagen og af og til er der faldet mig noget ind som vilde 'staa' godt for Fløjte. – Skulde jeg hellere først skrive en Fløjtehistorie?"¹⁰

Klarinetkoncerten måtte således vente til fordel for fløjtekoncerten, der blev uropført i Paris den 21. oktober 1926 med Holger Gilbert-Jespersen på fløjte og Emil Telmányi som dirigent; derefter skulle der gå endnu et par år, før Carl Nielsen for alvor tog fat på klarinetkoncerten. Fra 20. januar til 11. februar 1928 var han med sin hustru Anne Marie Carl-Nielsen på skiferie i Norge. Inden afrejsen havde han givet et interview til Dansk Musikertidende, hvori det blandt andet hedder:

"Arbejder De paa noget nyt? – Jeg skal netop nu rejse til Norge. Og heroppe vil jeg indfri et gammelt Løfte til Axel Oxenvad og skrive en Klarinet-Koncert."¹¹

Hvor langt Carl Nielsen kom med klarinetkoncerten i Norge og i København i tiden umiddelbart derefter indtil medio april vides ikke, men på Damgaard, hvortil han var rejst omkring den 15. april, blev hans ideer om værket så vel konsoliderede, at han den 20. april kunne sende forslag om en eventuel opførelse af sin klarinetkoncert til Konsertföreningen i Stockholm i forbindelse med planlægningen af en kommende koncert den 5. december.¹² Godt og vel en uge senere måtte han rejse til København for at deltage som dommer i en konkurrence udskrevet af Columbia Graphophone Company Ltd. i New York i anledning af 100-året for Franz Schuberts død 19. november 1828.¹³ At han var lidt ærgerlig over afbrydelsen fremgår af brev af 30. april til hustruen:¹⁴ "Kære, lille Marie! – – – Imorgen skal jeg til København, hvad jeg slet ikke er saa glad for, da jeg nu har faaet Tag i min nye Klarinethistorie. – – – ".¹⁵ Efter bedømmelsen i konkurrencen rejste han tilbage til Damgaard, og den 28. maj skriver han til Emil Telmányi:

"I have finished the first and second movements of my thing and I am working well. In what I have finished so far – that is, in the second movement too – there are very bold things and quite strong stuff (rather like my last few works). After this the enclosed theme keeps cropping up, for a kind of rondo. It's extremely innocent, in fact quite child-like, like a very young person singing quite thoughtlessly as in dreams (Phelma) about pleasant Dolce far niente. I can't get away from it, because it comes as a necessary innocent, pure, blue-eyed contrast with what comes before it. I am quite in love with the state of things expressed by this little insignificant theme ('wienerisch'?), but I've no idea if it's good or 'nichts'. Tell me what you think!! And preferably right away, if you please."¹⁶

Two days later Carl Nielsen writes again to Emil Telmányi:

"You hit the nail on the head: the end of the very insignificant theme is in another style. [...] I could easily get a lot out of these bland, insignificant bars, I know that for a fact [...] After your letter I now won't use the little theme [...] Now I'll fair-copy for a day or two and will probably forget this little shoot which will then perhaps turn out to be just a quite ordinary 'dandelion'."¹⁷

In June Carl Nielsen again had to leave the work aside, since from 16th to 24th June – now as chairman of the international adjudicating committee – he had to participate in the final selection of the winners of the Schubert competition. Immediately afterwards he went to a health resort in Sliac in Czechoslovakia until 10th July. From there he wrote about the situation to his wife, who was staying at Les Bains du Mont-Dore in France: "After lunch we lie for a while in deck-chairs again in the sun, and then I have a pavilion (a picture-theatre) with a piano down in an avenue where no one comes during the day, and I can work there."¹⁸

¹⁷ 30.5.1928 (DK-Kk, C II, 10).

¹⁸ Torben Schousboe, op. cit., p. 548.

"Jeg er færdig med I og II Sats af min Ting og jeg arbejder godt. I det jeg nu har færdig hidtil – altsaa ogsaa i II Sats – er der meget dristige Ting og stærkt krydrede (omtrent lignende mine sidste Arbejder). Efter dette bliver der ved at melde sig indlagte Tema, til en Slags Rondo. Det er jo uhyre uskyldigt ja helt barnligt som et ganske ung Menneske der synger helt tankeløst ligesom i Drømme (Phelma) om et behageligt Dolce far niente. Jeg kan ikke blive det kvit fordi det kommer som en nødvendig uskyldig, ren og blaaujet Modsætning til det foregaaende. Tilstanden i dette lille intetsigende Tema ('wienerisch') er jeg helt forelsket i, men jeg aner ikke om det godt eller 'nichts'. Sig mig Din Mening!! Og helst ligestraks, saa er Du god."¹⁶

To dage efter skriver Carl Nielsen igen til Emil Telmányi:

"Du træffer lige netop det rigtige: Slutningen paa det højst ubetydelige Tema er i en anden Stil. [...] Jeg kunde godt faa en hel Del ud af disse vandede ubetydelige Takter, det ved jeg bestemt [...] Jeg bruger efter Dit Brev nu ikke det lille Tema, [...] Nu renskriver jeg et Par Dage og glemmer nok denne Spire som maaske saa viser sig at være en ganske almindelig 'Fandens Mælkehøtte'."¹⁷

I juni måned måtte Carl Nielsen efter lade arbejdet ligge, da han fra 16.-24. juni – nu som formand for den internationale bedømmelseskommité – skulle deltage i den endelige udvælgelse af vinderne i Schubert-konkurrencen. Umiddelbart derefter rejste han på kurophold i Sliac i Tjekkoslovakiet indtil den 10. juli. Herfra berettede han om forholdene til sin hustru, som befandt sig i Les Bains du Mont-Dore i Frankrig: "Efter Frokost ligger vi lidt igen i Liggestol i Solen, saa har jeg en Pavillion (Biograftheater) med et Klaver nede i en Alle hvor ingen kommer om Dagen og der kan jeg arbejde."¹⁸

Aage Oxenvad received the manuscript for the clarinet solo a little at a time, and the correspondence between soloist and composer shows how they regularly discussed details in the work. In July Nielsen writes from Sliac: "have done some work on 'the beast', which will now soon be finished. I'll be coming on the tenth, then you'll get the rest."¹⁹ A few days later a letter from Copenhagen says: "Won't you come in and have lunch with me on Tuesday 17th at about 11-12 and bring your instrument and all the music. I am very close to finishing the affair and would like to hear a few staccato things yet again".²⁰ Aage Oxenvad himself says of the collaboration in an interview the day before the first public performance: "For Carl Nielsen's concerto I have received the manuscript bit by bit, as it was created – with little friendly remarks written in between the notes",²¹ after which the article gives a small quotation from the last page of the solo part (Source D). In this Carl Nielsen has added the following dialogue between composer and soloist in blue crayon:

"Dear O.!

C.N. 'How can you manage the breathing? Lord!'

A.O. 'I'll manage; I'll think of something'

C.N. 'Thanks! I thought you would!'²²

On 18th July Carl Nielsen went once more to Damgaard, and although he was tired after the cure in Sliac, the work went well,²³ and finally he end-dated the fourth and last movement in the fair copy: "Damgaard, 15th August '28."²⁴ Just under a week later he began writing the orchestral parts and made plans with Carl Johan Michaelsen for a concert in September.²⁵ The first performance took place on 14th September 1928 in Carl Johan Michaelsen's house in Højtøfte near Humlebæk with Aage Oxenvad as soloist and Emil Telmányi conducting. The orchestra consisted of members of the Royal Orchestra who had been brought by bus from Copenhagen.²⁶

Aage Oxenvad fik manuskriptet til klarinetsoloen lidt ad gangen, og brevvekslingen mellem solist og komponist viser, hvorledes de løbende drøftede detaljer i værket. I juli skriver Carl Nielsen fra Sliac: "har arbejdet noget på 'Dyret', som nu snart er færdig. Jeg kommer den 10 saa faar De resten."¹⁹ Nogle dage senere hedder det i brev fra København: "Kan De ikke komme ind og spise Frokost hos mig paa Tirsdag 17^{de} ved 11-12 Tiden og tage Instrumentet og alle Noder med. Jeg er meget nær ved at være færdig med Tingesten og vilde endnu engang gerne høre nogle Staccato-Historier".²⁰ Selv udtales Aage Oxenvad sig om samarbejdet i et interview dagen før den første offentlige opførelse: "Til Carl Nielsens Koncert har jeg faaet Manuskriptet lidt efter lidt, efterhaanden som den blev til -- med smaa venlige Bemærkninger skrevet ind mellem Noderne",²¹ hvorefter artiklen gengiver et lille citat fra sidste side i solostemmen (kilde D). Heri har Carl Nielsen med blå farvestift tilføjet følgende replikskifte mellem komponist og solist:

"Kære O.!

C.N. 'Hvordan kan det gaa med Vejrtrækningen ? Gud!'

A.O. 'Det skal nok gaa; jeg skal nok finde paa noget'

C.N. 'Tak! Det tænkte jeg nok'!²²

Den 18. juli rejste Carl Nielsen endnu engang til Damgaard, og selv om han var træt efter kuren i Sliac, gik arbejdet godt,²³ og endelig slutt datede han fjerde og sidste sats i renskriften: "Damgaard den 15. August 28."²⁴ En lille uge senere begyndte han at skrive orkesterstemmerne ud og planlagde sammen med Carl Johan Michaelsen en koncert i september.²⁵ Førsteopførelsen løb af stabelen den 14. september 1928 i Carl Johan Michaelsens hus i Højtøfte ved Humlebæk med Aage Oxenvad som solist og Emil Telmányi som dirigent. Orkestret bestod af medlemmer fra Det Kongelige Kapel, som var blev bragt dertil i bus fra København.²⁶

Carl Nielsen was very aware that he had struck out on a new path with the clarinet concerto; so new that he could not judge how the result would sound in advance. As early as 31st May 1928, three months before the composition was finished, he wrote to Nancy Dalberg:²⁷

"As for myself I feel really good at present and of course this benefits my work. When I get a chance I will show you some places in my concerto for clarinet and orchestra where I have such freedom in the parts for the instruments that I really have no idea how it will sound. Maybe it won't sound good, but it doesn't amuse me to compose music if I have to carry on in the same old way."²⁸

The change in style that Carl Nielsen is thinking of here presumably concerns the "freedom of the parts for the instruments". In the next two letters he clarifies what further determined the motion of the parts in the orchestra and thus had a crucial impact on this work. The day after the composition was finished he wrote to Emil Telmányi:

"I have taken a lot of trouble with this work and in particular have aimed at clarity and stringency, in the instrumentation too. There are a couple of places in this music where the two bassoons have very low $\frac{1}{2}$ holding notes along with the horns, which are pitched high; I think it will sound excellent in all its simplicity. The snare drum has also been given individual treatment".²⁹

And on 17th August he writes to Carl Johan Michaelsen:

"So now I have finished, and can say that this work has commanded the strongest interest from me. Each bar has been thought out, turned over and over and inspected to get it as clear and plastic as possible. [...] However, I am looking forward greatly to hearing what Oxenvad will get out of this piece. If he gets nothing out of it then no one can; for he is full of life and real artistic, vital understanding."³⁰

Carl Nielsen var meget bevidst om, at han med klarinetkoncerten var gået nye veje; – så nye, at han ikke på forhånd kunne bedømme det klingende resultat. Allerede den 31. maj 1928, tre måneder inden kompositionen var færdig, skrev han således til Nancy Dalberg:²⁷

"Hvad mig selv angaaer har jeg det rigtig godt for Tiden og det kommer naturligvis mit Arbejde til gode. Jeg skal engang ved Lejlighed vise Dig nogle Steder i min ny Konsert for Klarinet og Orkester, hvor jeg har en saa fri Stemmegang i Instrumenterne at jeg virkelig ingen Anelse har om hvordan det vil klinge. Maaske lyder det ikke godt, men det morer mig ikke at komponere Musik hvis jeg skal blive ved paa samme Maade."²⁸

Den ændring i stilten, som Carl Nielsen her tænker på, vedrører formentlig den "frie Stemmegang i Instrumenterne". I de følgende to breve præciserer han, hvad der yderligere bestemte stemmegangen i orkestret og dermed fik afgørende betydning for dette arbejde. Dagen efter at kompositionen blev færdig, skrev han således til Emil Telmányi:

"Jeg har gjort mig megen Umage med dette Arbejde og navnlig bestræbt mig for Klarhed og Stringens, ogsaa i Instrumentationen. Der er et Par Steder i disse Noder hvor de to Fag: har meget dybe $\frac{1}{2}$ Liggetoner sammen med Hornene, som ligger højt, jeg tror det vil klinge udmaerket i al sin Simpelhed. Den lille Tromme er ogsaa behandlet individuelt".²⁹

og den 17. august til Carl Johan Michaelsen:

"Nu er jeg altsaa færdig og jeg kan sige at dette Arbejde har haft min stærkeste Interesse. Hver Takt er gennemtænkt, endevendt og efterset for at faa det saa klart og plastisk som muligt. [...] Jeg glæder mig imidlertid meget stærkt til at høre hvad Oxenvad faar ud af dette Stykke. Faar han intet ud deraf er der ingen der kan; han er jo fuld af Liv og rigtig kunstnerisk, levende Opfattelse".³⁰

It would appear that Emil Telmányi thought that the clarity and stringency had ousted the emotional element – what the reviewers of the first public performance called “the heart”,³¹ or “beauty and euphony”³² – since Carl Nielsen replies to him in a letter:

“Yes, perhaps I have a certain fear of sentimentality, which can often – my instincts tell me – bear the germ of putrefaction. Am I right? Mozart is never sentimental, Beethoven can border on it, Wagner overflows all the banks (mixed with hollow pathos)”³³

In a letter to his daughter Irmelin he outlined some of his ideas on the relationship between solo and orchestra, which add a new dimension to the above quotations:

“My clarinet concerto will soon be finished. The instrument (solo) and the orchestral parts have been treated as individuals (as far as possible) but towards the end the clarinet finds a light, almost wholly folk-like, childlike motif (as if by chance) and when the other instruments hear it they throng to it and express their pleasure over it in a powerful but happy tutti: ‘that’s something we understand’. But it doesn’t end (the concert, I mean) in that world, that’s only a ‘social’ episode.

A composer with imagination, eh? But I must hasten to say: imaginings like that are of no use whatsoever, they’re only small private pleasures.”³⁴

Carl Nielsen’s rigorous composition technique and the restrained beauty and lyricism that he himself had emphasized in the correspondence with Emil Telmányi became the most important points in the reviews after the first public performance, which took place on 11th October 1928 in the large hall of the Odd Fellow Palæ with members of the Royal Orchestra, Emil Telmányi as conductor and Aage Oxenvad as soloist.³⁵ The reception was mixed; in several reviews the clarinet concerto was considered too progressive for most of the audience.

Ekstrabladet predicted that the work had no future, despite the

Det kan se ud som om, at Emil Telmányi har ment, at klarheden og stringensen fortrængte det følelsesmæssige – hos anmelderne af første offentlige opførelse kaldt “Hjertelaget”,³¹ “Skønhed og Vellyd”³² – idet Carl Nielsen i et brev til ham svarer:

“Ja, maaske har jeg nogen Angst for Sentimentalitet, som ofte – efter mit Instinkt – kan indeholde Forraadnelsens Bacille. Har jeg Ret? Mozart er aldrig sentimental, Beethoven kan være paa Grænsen, Wagner over alle Bredder (blandet med hul Patos)”³³

I et brev til sin datter Irmelin beskrev han nogle af sine forestillinger om forholdet mellem solo og orkester, som giver en ny dimension til de ovenstående citater:

“Min Klarinetkonsert er snart færdig. Instrumentet (Solo) og Orkesterstemmerne er behandlede som Individer (saavidt muligt) men henimod Slutningen finder Klarinetten paa et let og næsten helt folkeligt – barnligt Motiv (ligesom tilfældigt) og da de andre Instrumenter hører det, styrter de sig over det og udtrykker i et heftigt men dog glad Tutti deres Glæde over det: ‘det er noget vi forstaar’. Men det ender ikke (Konserten mener jeg) i den Verden, det er kun en ‘social’ Episode.

En Komponist med Ideer, hvad ? Jeg skynder mig dog at sige: saadanne Ideer nytter ikke det fjerneste, det er kun smaa Privatfornøjelser.”³⁴

Carl Nielsens strenge kompositionsteknik og den begrænsede skønhed og lyrik, som han selv havde fremhævet i korrespondancen med Emil Telmányi, blev de vigtigste punkter i anmeldelserne efter den første offentlige fremførelse. Denne fandt sted den 11. oktober 1928 i Odd Fellow Palæets store sal med medlemmer af Det Kongelige Kapel, Emil Telmányi som dirigent og Aage Oxenvad som solist.³⁵ Modtagelsen var blandet; ifølge flere anmeldelser var klarinetkoncerten for avanceret for størstedelen af publikum. Ekstrabladet spåede ikke værket nogen fremtid på trods af “at det var et interessant fact “that it was an interesting work with justification in its boldness and its attempt to break new ground for the resources of musical expression; but if this is to be called the music of the future we do not think that the coming generations will be particularly comfortable in the concert hall.”³⁶ Nor did Gunnar Hauch, in his review in Nationaltidende, think the work had any future, asserting “that even an ear with a ‘modern’ orientation must feel pain listening to it” – and he further thought “that the instrument was not used here with an intimate understanding of its character and its capability for beauty – beauty taken of course in the modern, most extended sense.”³⁷

Hugo Seligman disagrees with him on this point and writes in Politiken:

“he has brought forth the soul of the clarinet, not only its wild-animal essence, but also its special kind of – tough – lyricism. His orchestra is extremely simple: strings, two horns, two bassoons and a – here highly significant – snare drum. But with these few resources he creates a fantastic symphony which is now revealed in a rhythmic orgy whipped up to the bestial, now in lyric-melodic material that does not just lie there for the taking, but must first, more hidden and like the vein of gold, be sought out.”³⁸

In his review William Behrend emphasized the inner logic of the work and regarded the lack of euphony as a result of Carl Nielsen’s insistence on the musical ideas.³⁹ The concerto was at all events performed six times during Nielsen’s lifetime, including the performance in Højtøfte, two of these in Sweden: the first on 5th December 1928 with Konsertföreningen in Stockholm, as Carl Nielsen had already suggested on 20th April,⁴⁰ and the second in Göteborgs Konsertförening on 7th April 1929.⁴¹ The work was not well received, either in Stockholm or in Gothenburg, and one reviewer of the concert in Stockholm condemned both the work and the composer:

Arbejde, der har Berettigelse ved sin Dristighed og Forsøg paa at vinde nyt Land for de musikalske Udtryksmidler; men hvis det skal kaldes Fremtidens Musik, tror vi ikke, de kommende Slægter vil komme til at befinde sig særlig vel i Koncertsalene.”³⁶ Heller ikke Gunnar Hauch mente i sin anmeldelse i Nationaltidende, at værket havde nogen fremtid for sig, og hævdede, “at selv et ‘moderne’ indstillet Øre maatte føle Smerte ved at høre derpaa” – og han mente endvidere, “at Instrumentet her ikke er udnyttet med en intim Forstaaelse af dets Karakter og skønhedsmæssige Ydeevne, skønhedsmæssig naturligvis taget i moderne videst mulig udvidet Begreb.”³⁷

Hugo Seligman er uenig med ham på dette punkt og skriver i Politiken:

“han har udløst Klarinettens Sjæl, ikke blot dens Vilddyr-Væsen, men ogsaa dens særlige Art af – barsk – Lyrik. Hans Orkester er saare enkelt: Strygere, to Horn, to Fagotter og en – her meget betydende – lille Tromme. Men med disse faa Midler digter han en fantastisk Symfoni, der snartaabnbarer i et indtil det bestialske oppisket Rytmeorgie, til andre Tider i et lyrisk-melodisk Stof, der ikke ligger lige til Rede, men mere dulgt og ligesom Guldets Aare først maa søges.”³⁸

William Behrend fremhævede i sin anmeldelse værkets indre logik og betragtede den manglende velklang som en følge af Carl Nielsens fastholden af de musikalske ideer.³⁹ Koncerterne blev opført i hvert fald seks gange i Carl Nielsens levetid, inklusive opførelsen i Højtøfte, heraf to gange i Sverige: første gang den 5. december 1928 med Konsertföreningen i Stockholm, således som Carl Nielsen havde foreslået allerede 20. april,⁴⁰ og anden gang i Göteborgs Konsertförening den 7. april 1929.⁴¹ Værket faldt ikke i god jord, hverken i Stockholm eller Göteborg, og en anmelder af koncerterne i Stockholm fordømte både værket og komponisten:

"Absolutely the worst, though, [...] was the clarinet concerto that was now offered as a new work and whose cackling, crowing, squeaking, bellowing and grunting solo part was performed by the Dane Aage Oxenvad. Here Carl Nielsen apparently swears to pure cacophonism. [...] put a beggar on horseback and he'll ride to the Devil."⁴²

In Gothenburg the reviewers were equally dismissive of the work although "as such it arouses keen interest and in purely musical terms the clarinet concerto testifies to undiminished strength of imagination and inventiveness, not least in the timbre combinations, and includes small oases of a distinctive atmosphere, like patches of pure elemental power."⁴³

After the second performance in Copenhagen on 10th December 1928 by Dansk Koncertforening Carl Nielsen wrote in his diary:

"Conducted the clarinet concerto at Dansk Koncertforening. Oxenvad played the concerto excellently and now people understood the piece better",⁴⁴ and in a letter to Emil Telmányi he wrote: "Now the piece was quite a success and 'Nationaltidende' (which ran it down last time) was very enthusiastic; it was of course not G.H. but Felsing this time".⁴⁵

William Behrend thought in Berlingske Tidende "that more calm had descended upon the performance" with Carl Nielsen as conductor instead of Emil Telmányi, making room for "the lyrical distinctiveness of the clarinet".⁴⁶ The last occasion on which Carl Nielsen conducted the clarinet concerto was on 26th October 1929 at a concert in the Arts Fair in Forum.⁴⁷

The many reservations about the clarinet concerto gradually disappeared as time passed and a review of a memorial concert for Carl Nielsen on 25th January 1932 given by Dansk Koncertforening with Peder Gram conducting says:

"Det absolut sämsta [...] är dock den klarinettkonsert som nu bjöds som nyhet och vars kacklande, galande, pipande, bölande och grymtande solostämma utfördes av dansken Aage Oxenvad. Här bekänner sig Carl Nielsen öppet till den rena kakofonismen. [...] naar skidt kommer til Ære, ved det ikke hvordan det vil være."⁴²

I Göteborg var man ligeledes afvisende over for værket selv om, "den som sådant utlöser ett starkt intresse, och att klarinettkonserten rent musikaliskt vittnar om oförminsad styrka i fantasi och upfinning, ej minst av klangkombinationer, och rymmer små oaser av egenartad stämning, liksom partier av rent elementär kraft."⁴³

Efter den anden opførelse i København 10. december 1928 med Dansk Koncertforening skrev Carl Nielsen i sin dagbog:

"Dirigerede i Dansk Koncertforening Klarinetkonserten. Oxenvad spillede Koncerterne udmærket og nu forstod Folk bedre Stykket",⁴⁴ og i et brev til Emil Telmányi skrev han: "Nu gjorde Stykket megen Lykke og 'Nationaltidende' (som rakkede ned forrige Gang) var meget begejstret; det var natuligvis ikke G.H. men Felsing denne gang".⁴⁵

William Behrend i Berlingske Tidende mente "at der var kommet mere Ro over Opførelsen" med Carl Nielsen som dirigent i stedet for Emil Telmányi, hvorved der blev plads til "Klarinetten lysiske Ejendommelighed".⁴⁶ Sidste gang Carl Nielsen dirigerede klarinetkoncerteren var den 26. oktober 1929 ved en koncert ved Kunstmætnet i Forum.⁴⁷

De mange forbehold over for klarinetkoncerterne forsvandt efterhånden, som tiden gik, og i en anmeldelse af en mindekonzert for Carl Nielsen den 25. januar 1932, afholdt af Dansk Koncertforening med Peder Gram som dirigent, hedder det:

"It was amusing to hear the clarinet concerto again. When it appeared a few years ago it was regarded as the wildest of the wild; now on the other hand – when one already has it at some distance – it seems quite matter-of-fact and straightforward, and it is easier to admire how sharp and logical it is in its form."⁴⁸

The clarinet concerto was not performed elsewhere in Europe during Carl Nielsen's lifetime, although the rumours about the concerto at least reached both Vienna and Leipzig. The Austrian conductor Rudolf Nilius⁴⁹ visited Carl Nielsen to talk about the clarinet concerto in 1928/1929,⁵⁰ and the next year the composer received a letter from the music publisher Wilhelm Hansen, saying:

"We have had an inquiry from Professor Scheinplug,⁵¹ who would like to perform your clarinet concerto with orchestra on the radio and wishes to rent the score, one set of parts, as well as 6 VI.I, 4 VI.II, 3 Viola, 2 Vlc., 2 Bass and the clarinet part with piano accompaniment. We would suggest that you ask for MK. 100 in rental for one performance and pay us the usual commission of 15%. We would be willing to send the material to Leipzig and insure it for e.g. 3,000 Kr."⁵²

Carl Nielsen replied:

"Dear S. Wilh. Hansen

Thanking you for your information, I must remark that Prof. Scheinplug cannot have heard or seen my clarinet concerto (it has not been published); otherwise he would realize that the soloist must study his part for months before a good result can be achieved. Mr. Oxenvad, who is one of the finest clarinettists in Europe at present, declared that the piece was extraordinarily difficult.

Thus I do not wish the piece to be played on the radio, but ask you to send my regards to Prof. S. and express my thanks anyway".⁵³

"Morsomt var det atter at høre Klarinetkonerten. Da den kom frem for faa Aar siden, blev den regnet for det vildeste vilde; nu derimod – da man allerede har den lidt paa Afstand – virker den helt selvfølgelig og ligetil, og man har lettere ved at beundre, hvor skarp og logisk den er i sin Form."⁴⁸

Klarinetkonerten blev ikke opført andre steder i Europa i Carl Nielsens levetid, selv om rygterne om koncerteren i hvert fald nåede både til Wien og Leipzig. Den østrigske dirigent Rudolf Nilius⁴⁹ opsøgte Carl Nielsen i anledning af klarinetkoncerteren i 1928/1929,⁵⁰ og året efter modtog komponisten et brev fra musikforlaget Wilhelm Hansen, hvori det hedder:

"Vi har haft en forespørgsel fra Professor Scheinplug,⁵¹ som gerne vil opføre din Klarinetkoncert med Orkester i Radio og ønsker at leje Partitur, 1 Sæt Stemmer, desuden 6 VI.I, 4 VI.II, 3 Viola, 2 Vlc., 2 Bass samt, Klarinetstemmen med Klaverakkompagnement. Carl Nielsen svarede:

"Kære S. Wilh. Hansen

Med Tak for Meddelelsen skal jeg bemærke at Prof. Scheinplug kan ikke have hørt eller set min Klarinetkonsert (den er ikke udkommet) ellers ville han indse at Solisten maa studere sin Stemme i Maaneder før der kan komme et godt Resultat. Carl Nielsen's reply shows that he was very conscious of the technical demands his composition made on the soloist, and he wanted no half-measures – rather no performance than a poor performance.

The clarinet concerto was published – despite the interest from Wilhelm Hansens musikforlag – by another publisher, that is Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik (the Society for the Publication of Danish Music, in the following Samfundet), and even though the preparatory work was done in the course of the summer of 1931, Carl Nielsen did not see his work in print before he died later in the year.⁵⁴ On 23rd June 1931 Nielsen signed a contract with Samfundet,⁵⁵ and as early as 26th June Samfundet wrote to the German music printers C.G. Röder A.G. Leipzig:

"We have received the piano arrangement of Carl Nielsen's clarinet concerto and the accompanying letter. Unfortunately, however, Mr. Nielsen is at present away, but will be back within a week and we will have him look through the piano arrangement as quickly as possible."⁵⁶

If the piano score mentioned in the letter was a specimen proof the engraving must have been begun long before the signing of the contract, since the work cannot have been done in the few days between the signing of the contract and the letter to the printer on 26th June; another possibility is that Carl Nielsen did not read from a specimen proof, but from a manuscript to prepare it as a printing source. The same uncertainty applies to the score: on 5th August he noted in his diary: "Sent proofs for the clarinet concerto to Peder Gram Holte (Malmosevej 1)".⁵⁷ It is not clear here either what Korrektur ("proofs" or "corrections") refers to; it may have been a reading of specimen proofs of either the piano score or the orchestral score; or it may have been a correction/revision of the manuscripts that were to be used as the printing source. However this may be, the work was printed by the beginning of December 1931 in score, parts and piano score.⁵⁸

Carl Nielsens svar viser, at han var meget bevidst om de tekniske krav, som hans komposition stillede til solisten, og han ønskede ingen halve løsninger – hellere ingen opførelse end en dårlig opførelse.

Klarinetkonerten udkom – på trods af interessen fra Wilhelm Hansens musikforlag – på et andet forlag, nemlig Samfundet til Udgivelse af Dansk Musik (herefter Samfundet), og selv om det forberedende arbejde blev gjort i løbet af sommeren 1931, nåede Carl Nielsen ikke at se sit værk på tryk, før han døde senere på året.⁵⁴ Den 23. juni 1931 underskrev Carl Nielsen en kontrakt med Samfundet,⁵⁵ og allerede den 26. juni skrev Samfundet til det tyske nodetrykkeri, C.G. Röder A.G. Leipzig:

"Der Klaverauszug zu Carl Nielsen Klarinetkoncert und mitfolgender Brief haben wir erhalten, leider ist aber Herr Nielsen verreist, wir doch wahrscheinlich in Laufe einer Woche zurückkehren und lassen wir ihn dann schleunigst den Klaverauszug durchsehen".⁵⁶

Hvis det i brevet omtalte klaverpartitur drejer sig om et prøvetryk, må stikningen være påbegyndt længe før kontraktens underskrivelse, idet arbejdet ikke kan være udført på de få dage mellem kontraktens underskrift og brevet til trykkeriet den 26. juni; en anden mulighed er, at Carl Nielsen ikke læste korrektur på et prøvetryk, men på manuskriptet for at klargøre det som trykforlæg. Den samme usikkerhed gør sig gældende omkring partituret; den 5. august noterede han i sin dagbog: "Sendte Korrektur til Klarinetkonerten til Peder Gram Holte (Malmosevej 1)".⁵⁷ Heller ikke her er det entydigt, hvad "Korrektur" hentyder til; det kan have været en korrektur på et prøvetryk til enten klaverpartituret eller orkesterpartituret, og det kan også have været en korrektur/revision af manuskriptene, der skulle anvendes som trykforlæg. Hvordan det nu end forholder sig, forelå værket trykt i begyndelsen af december 1931 i partitur, stemmer og klaverpartitur.⁵⁸

The preserved source material consists of a number of autograph and partly autograph scores: sketches, rough draft and fair copy (printing source), a part-autograph of the solo part and finally the orchestral parts, some of which are in autograph. Emil Telmányi drew up the piano arrangement, but his manuscript must be considered lost. As the main source the fair copy has been chosen, since it represents the source we know with certainty to have been accepted by Carl Nielsen; we cannot know, as is evident from the above, whether he personally read a specimen proof of the score.

There are two controversial places in the solo part on which clarinettists disagree today. The first is a $\frac{7}{8}$ in b. 201:  In the solo part (Source D), b. 201 is found in three variants, two in Carl Nielsen's hand and one in Aage Oxenvad's. The first variant in the composer's hand has a $\frac{7}{8}$ here,⁵⁹ the second (in $\frac{4}{4}$) a $\frac{7}{8}$, while the copy in Oxenvad's hand has a $\frac{7}{8}$. In the draft (Source B) there is a $\frac{7}{8}$, while the $\frac{7}{8}$ has been changed to a $\frac{7}{8}$ in the fair copy (Source A).⁶⁰ When Carl Nielsen consulted Aage Oxenvad while composing the concerto, the latter may have suggested a breathing space in the long staccato passage. Perhaps this was one of the places he had in mind when he spoke of "a few staccato things",⁶¹ on the basis of the documented collaboration between composer and soloist and as a result of the correction in the fair copy (Source A) the main source has been followed on this point.

The other controversial place is b. 531, notes 21-22. The question is whether these notes should be $a^{\flat\prime\prime}-a^{\flat\prime\prime}$ or $a''-a''$. The music at b. 531 in rough draft and fair copy is as follows:

In the two handwritten copies of b. 531 in the solo part by Emil Telmányi and Aage Oxenvad respectively, notes 17-20 are enharmonically reinterpreted and the bar then looks as follows:

Det overleverede kildemateriale består af en række autografe og delvis autografe kilder: skitser, kladde og renskrift (trykforlæg), delautograf af solostemmen og endelig orkesterstemmerne, hvorfra en del er i autograf. Emil Telmányi udarbejdede klaverudtoget, men hans manuskript må anses for at være gået tabt. Som hovedkilde er valgt renskriften, da den repræsenterer den kilde, vi med sikkerhed ved er accepteret af Carl Nielsen, idet man, som det fremgår af overstående, ikke kan vide, om han selv har læst korrektur på et prøvetryk til partituret.

Der er to kontroversielle steder i solostemmen, som klarinettister i dag er uenige om. Det første sted drejer sig om en $\frac{7}{8}$ i t. 201:  I solostemmen (kilde D) findes t. 201 i tre varianter, to i Carl Nielsens hånd og en i Aage Oxenvads. Den første variant med komponistens hånd har her $\frac{7}{8}$, den anden ($\frac{4}{4}$) $\frac{7}{8}$, mens Oxenvads afskrift har $\frac{7}{8}$. I kladden (kilde B) står $\frac{7}{8}$, mens $\frac{7}{8}$ er ændret til $\frac{7}{8}$ i renskriften (kilde A).⁶⁰ Da Carl Nielsen under kompositionen af koncerthen konsulterede Aage Oxenvad, har sidstnævnte måske foreslået en vejrtrækningspause i det lange staccato-forløb. Måske var det ét af de steder, han havde i tankerne, da han talte om "et par Staccato-historier";⁶¹ på baggrund af det dokumenterede samarbejde mellem komponist og solist og som følge af rettelsen i renskriften (kilde A) er hovedkilden fulgt på dette punkt.

Det andet kontroversielle sted er t. 531, node 21-22. Spørsgsmålet er, om de pågældende noder skal være $a^{\flat\prime\prime}-a^{\flat\prime\prime}$ eller $a''-a''$. T. 531 i kladde og renskrift har følgende nodetekst:

I de to afskrifter af t. 531 i solostemmen (kilde D) af henholdsvis Emil Telmányi og Aage Oxenvad er node 17-20 enharmonisk omtydet, og takten ser da således ud:

⁵⁹ Se faksimile s. xxiv.

⁶⁰ Se faksimile s. xxv.

⁶¹ Jf. note 20.

59 See facsimile p. xxiv.

60 See facsimile p. xxv.

61 Cf. note 20.

In contrast with the issue in b. 201 the change in the solo part in b. 531 has not been transferred to the fair copy, and since Carl Nielsen was in general very careful with the indication of accidentals and their cancellation the main source has been followed again. An analysis of the phrase up to b. 533 does not suggest a clear motivic argument for adding a \natural , and in the solo part the \flat may have been forgotten by the two copyists in connection with the reinterpretation of the immediately preceding notes.

Articulation and dynamics posed the greatest problems in the editorial work, and these have been solved as far as possible by completing on the basis of analogies on the premises of the main source itself. The other sources – the rough draft, Carl Nielsen's manuscript parts and the printed score – have provided guidelines in cases of doubt.

Elly Bruunshuus Petersen

I modsætning til problemstillingen i t. 201 er ændringen i solostemmen i t. 531 ikke overført til renskriften, og da Carl Nielsen generelt har været meget omhyggelig med angivelse af fortegn og deres oplosning, er hovedkilden efter fulgt. En analyse af frasen indtil t. 533 peger ikke på et entydigt motivisk argument for at tilføje \natural , og i solostemmen kan \flat være glemt af de to afskrivere i forbindelse med omtydningen af noderne lige før.

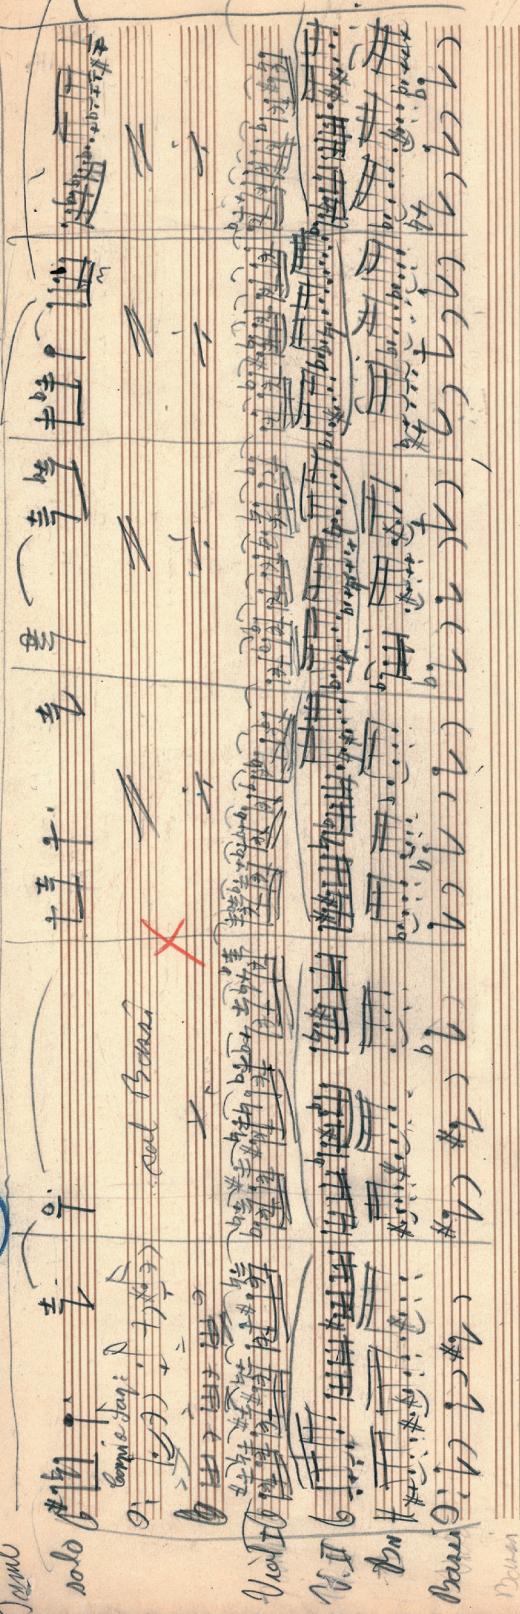

Artikulation og dynamik har udgjort de største problemer i revisionsarbejdet, og de er løst ved såvidt muligt at komplettere på basis af analogislutninger på hovedkildens egne præmisser. De øvrige kilder, kladden, Carl Nielsens håndskrevne stemmer og det trykte partitur, har i tvivlstilfælde været vejvisere.

I det trykte partitur (kilde F) står molto i alle orkesterstemmer undtagen tamb. picc. I nærværende udgave er molto fjernet i cb. og tilføjet i tamb. picc. ifølge kladden.

A handwritten musical score page for a Clarinet Concerto. The page contains six staves of music. The first staff is for the solo clarinet, starting with a dynamic of p and a melodic line with grace notes. The second staff is for the bassoon. The third staff is for the strings. The fourth staff is for the woodwinds. The fifth staff is for the brass. The sixth staff is for the percussion. The music consists of measures separated by vertical bar lines. There are several dynamics written in, including p , mfp , and f . Measure 15 is indicated above the third staff. Measure 201 is indicated above the fourth staff. The paper is aged and shows some staining.

In the Critical Commentary the following conventions are used:

- 1 “by analogy with” is used when something has been “added”, “emended” or “omitted” by analogy with another passage in the main source. The analogy may be vertical. When something is added “by analogy with” one or more instruments, it is understood that the analogy is with the same place in the same bar(s). Or it may be horizontal. When something is added “by analogy with” one or more bars, it is understood that the analogy is with a parallel place in the same instrument(s).
- 2 “as in” is used when something is “added”, “emended” or “omitted” to correspond to the same place in another source.
- 3 “in accordance with” is used in cases where there is no authoritative source, only a guideline – for example printed part material.

In the bar number column, the symbol “+” is used to indicate an upbeat to the bar in question.

I Sketches.

DK-Kk, CNS 70d.

Donated to the Royal Library by Irmelin Eggert Møller in 1958.

34.5x27 cm, 2 folios written in pencil.

Paper type: No. F. 18, (18 staves).

The sketches consist mainly of short motifs for cl. solo with reduced orchestral setting notated on 2 staves; also 7 bars of "Bøhmisk-Dansk Folketone" notated on 4 staves, $\frac{4}{4}$.

The first sources for the Concerto for Clarinet and Orchestra op. 57 are the sketches (I). After these Carl Nielsen made the draft (B) which forms the basis for the fair copy (A). In the draft (B) Carl Nielsen noted how far he had come with the fair-copying – either with small crosses or with the number of the last page written. It is evident that the fair copy (C), with bb. 300-352, was written before the corresponding bars in the fair copy (A); in the first fair copy (C) the bars were given a different instrumentation from the draft (B). Carl Nielsen changed his mind, however, took the pages (C) out of the fair copy (A) and replaced them with the present pages, where the passage has had the original instrumentation restored. Source A is the printing source for the printed score (F), which appeared in December 1931 after the death of Carl Nielsen. The solo part (D) was written out concurrently with and according to the draft (B) or the fair copy (A). As the part (D) appears today, passages in Carl Nielsen's hand have been replaced by additions and overwritings by Aage Oxenvad and Emil Telmányi, probably to obtain better turning-places. Of the parts (E), Carl Nielsen himself wrote out fg., cor., vl. 1 (Nos. 2-4), vl.2 (Nos. 1-2), va. (No. 2) after the draft (B), while Emil Telmányi wrote out tamb. picc., va. (No. 1), vc. (No. 1), cb. (No. 1), probably from the fair copy (A). Vl. 2 (No. 3), vc. (No. 2) and cb. (No. 2) were written out by an unknown hand. Emil Telmányi made the piano arrangement which was by all indications the printing source for the piano score printed in 1931 (G, Ga); the manuscript for this must be considered lost.

As the main source the fair copy (A) has been chosen, since it represents the latest source known with certainty to have been approved by Carl Nielsen. The final form of the source is due to the fact that in the first place Emil Telmányi, while drawing up the piano score and writing out the parts, made additions in the score; in the second place, additions in the draft – made by Carl Nielsen in connection with the writing-out of the parts – were transferred to the score by Carl Nielsen and Emil Telmányi. The last changes in the fair copy (A) were made when the manuscript was prepared for the upcoming printing, when changes and additions in the parts were transferred to the score by Emil Telmányi. All additions are mentioned in the ‘List of Emendations and Alternative Readings’.

Carl Nielsen himself delivered proofs for printing; it has not been possible, however, to prove on the basis of the known source material that he read proofs of the printed score (F), but this is a possibility which incidentally also applies to the piano score (G) with the related solo part (Ga). As a result of this doubt, the printed score (F) and the solo part (Ga) in the printed piano score (G) have played a guiding role in connection with the completions by analogy in the main source, especially in the matter of articulation; all variants from these sources have been included in the ‘List of Emendations and Alternative Readings’.

The other manuscript sources, the draft (B), the solo part (D), and the parts (E), have been consulted in cases of doubt.
