The image displays a musical score for the sixth voice part of a sequence of canticles. The score is written on ten staves of five-line music paper. The first staff begins with a large, ornate initial letter 'D' that spans across the first two staves. The music is written in a style characteristic of 16th-century printed music, featuring diamond-shaped note heads and stems. The notation includes various rhythmic values, such as minims and crotchets, and rests. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). The score concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign at the end of the tenth staff.

SEXTA VOX.

The image displays a musical score for the sixth voice part, titled "Duim vocum." and numbered "XVII." The score consists of ten staves of music. The first staff begins with a large, ornate initial letter "S" in a decorative frame. The music is written in a style characteristic of 17th-century manuscript notation, using a single clef (likely alto or soprano) and a common time signature. The notes are primarily quarter and eighth notes, with some rests. The key signature is one flat (B-flat). The score concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign. Below the ten staves of music, there are three empty staves.

This page contains a musical score for two voices, labeled 'Duūm vocum.' and 'XVIII'. The score is written on ten staves. The first staff begins with a large, ornate initial 'D' that spans across the first two staves. The music is written in a single system with a common time signature (C) and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The notation includes various note values, rests, and dynamic markings such as 'p' (piano) and 'f' (forte). The piece concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign on the tenth staff. The bottom of the page shows three empty staves.

The image displays a musical score for two voices, titled "Duūm vocum." and numbered "XIX." The score consists of ten staves of music. The first staff begins with a decorative initial "M" in a square frame. The notation is written on five-line staves with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). The notes are primarily eighth and sixteenth notes, with some rests. There are several accidentals, including flats and naturals. The score concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The overall style is characteristic of early printed music.

This page contains ten staves of musical notation for a two-voice setting. The notation is written in a historical style, likely from the 16th or 17th century. The first staff begins with a decorative initial 'D' and a treble clef. The music consists of a series of rhythmic patterns, primarily using eighth and sixteenth notes, with some rests. Dynamic markings such as 'p' (piano) and 'f' (forte) are used throughout. The notation includes various rhythmic values, including minims, crotchets, and quavers, often beamed together. The piece concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

O R L A N D I cineres, eheu, modò dulce loquentes
Nunc mutos, eheu, flebilis urna premit.
Lassa sunt flendo Charites tua funera, Lasse,
Principibus multum chareq; Cesaribus.
Belgica quem tellus genitrix dedit ingeniorum,
Ingeniorum altrix Boia fouit humus.
Corporis exuias eadem quoq; Boia textit,
Post lustra, ac hyemes, sena bis aeta, duas.
Robora, saxa, feras Orpheus, at hic Orpheatraxit,
Harmoniaq; Duces perculit Harmonia.
Nunc quia compleuit totum concentibus orbem,
Victor cum superis certat apud superos.
